ATHLETICS

Baseball

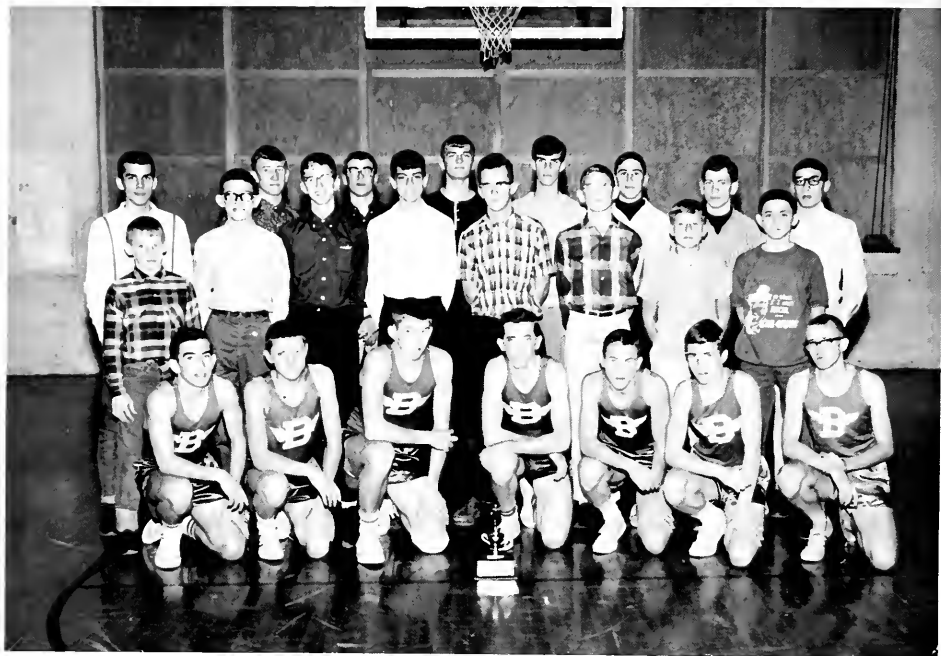

Our baseball team this past summer ended up with a losing season, although we did win over such county teams as Portland and Madison.

Gaining experience as the season drew to a close, the Owls made it to the semi-finals in the E. I. B. L. playoffs. They beat Monmouth in the first game but were then overpowered by Hartford City.

The only Senior leaving the team will be Dave Bergman, so chances of a winning season are evident.

Cross-Country

The above group made up our cross country squad. The boys in uniforms won the Pennville Invitational for us led by Steve Fennig. The prospects for this team next year looks very bright, since the only Seniors lost were Dave Bergman and Keith Huey.

Steve Fennig was our outstanding runner turning in his fastest time of 9:56 in the County meet. Bryant finished second in the County, losing a close meet by three points.

A special note of gratitude is given to Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Grogg for letting us boys practice on their farm.

Track

The Bryant Owls again ended a very prosperous track season by winning the county meet. For the Owls this was the seventh consecutive county championship.

Our team turned in an impressive record at the finish of the season, winning ten of their eleven meets. The only one we lost was a three-way meet in which we placed second.

In the county meet, we won seven out of the fourteen first places. Dwain Michael was our top individual winning three events and running also in the half-mile relay team. Ray Shultz, Dave Laux, and Terry Masters were Bryant's only other individual winners in this county meet.

The final score for the 1966 County meet was:	Bryant	77-3/4
	Madison	47-3/4
	Redkey	47-3/4
	Dunkirk	29
	Pennville	21-3/4

Tri-Hi-Y

Eighteen girls belong to Tri-Hi-Y this year. This organization annually sponsors the Sports Banquet. Janelle Stauffer is president.

Y.F.C.

This year, YFC is without a full time director but the club is still going full strength.

Home Economics--3

We are very fortunate this year to have Mrs. Ketchum teach an advanced Home Ec. class. It consists of Juniors and Seniors.

Geometry

Mr. Haffner does his best to teach these students their Geometry.

Mechanical Drawing

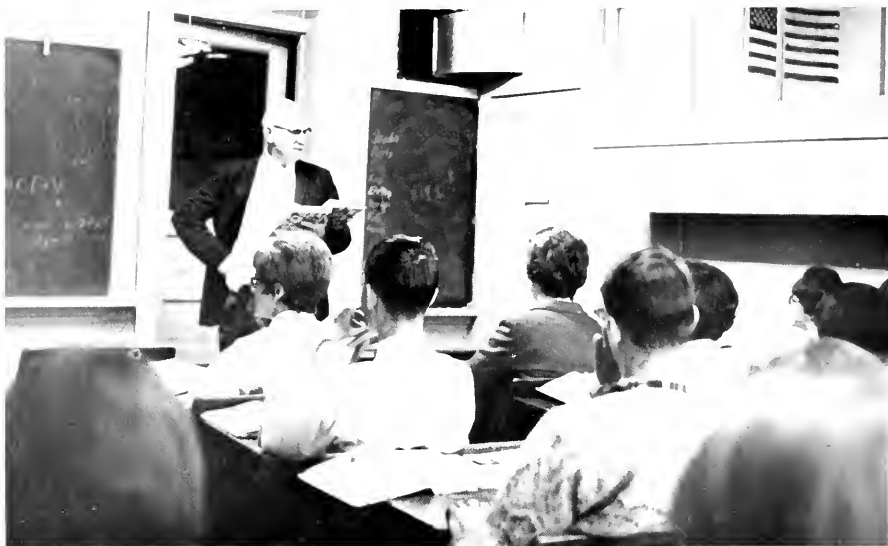

These students seem to know what they are doing while Mr. Settle teaches.

Chemistry

Do we see a future chemist in this group? Time will tell.

Government

Seniors learn, through Mr. Cheek, that the government is a wonderful thing.

U.S. History

Juniors make up the U.S. History class and seem interested. Mr. Wallace teaches.

Latin 1

The picture of the other Latin 1 class is not available.

I'm sure these girls will agree that exercise sure beats Metrecal. See any prospects for the 1976 Olympic wrestling team????????????????????

Judging

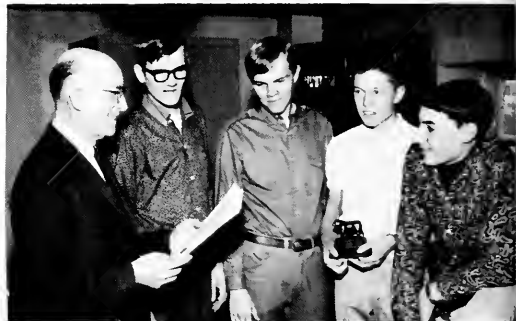

DAIRY

This group received a 3rd in district and a 1st in the county. The team consists of Dave Bergman, Keith Huey, Dwain Michael, and Marvin Starr.

LIVESTOCK

Danny Hoffman, Eddie Davidson, Steve Fennig, and Steve Loy received a 2nd rating in the district judging this year.

SOIL

This group deserves high honors for receiving a 2nd in district, and a 3rd in the state contest. The boys are Terry Billington, Steve Loy, Roger Starr, and Wayne Brotherton.

POULTRY

This group, consisting of Wayne Brotherton, Lee Fennig, Roger Starr, Mark Houser, and Danny Schwieterman, received a 1st in district and 7th in the state contest. I'm sure Mr. Haffner is very proud of all his judging teams.

CAN YOU IMAGINE

Mr. Cheek not thinking the Seventh Grade all right in study hall.
 Mrs. Ketchum doing the Watusi in a sloppy sweatshirt and tight slacks.
 Mr. Wallace not getting excited over a bad call during a basketball game.
 Mr. Younkin not pulling a practical joke on somebody.

 Mrs. Scholar not having someone help her every morning to carry her money box in to the school.
 Mr. Ludy talking against college.
 The senior class of "67" not being the greatest class ever!!!!!!

We Predict

Mr. Wayne Haffner has just returned from a world tour. As we join him, Mrs. Scholar has just asked what he saw on his "bachelor's fling", and he is telling her about all the graduates of '67 he had seen recently, thirteen years later.

Before starting on my trip, I decided that I needed a new car. I had planned to get another Dodge, but when I arrived at Fort Wayne I found that there were no Dodge dealers around at all. Neither could I find any of the other well-known dealers. The only advertisements I saw were about the "Geomar Car", so I decided to stop in at Geomar dealer. He told me that this car was developed by two men from here in the Midwest, GEORGE BOICE and MARION DAILEY. This car was so much more powerful, comfortable and inexpensive to operate than the others that it had driven other dealers out of business.

On the way home, I passed the new rest home, Happy Park, along highway 27. I saw the home's head nurse, CHERYL GETTINGER. After reminiscing about old times at Bryant, I began to feel hungry so I left to find a good restaurant.

A huge flashing neon sign caught my eye. Bright lights spelled out "Nona's Nook" - Good Food. I wondered if this could be OUR Nona, so I went inside. Once inside, I saw a sign which read "The Home of the Boss of the Year". I knew immediately that this was our NONA. She saw me and rushed over to my table. She mentioned that her award was won because of her consideration of her employees when needing time off.

After a good meal, I resumed my journey home. However, just before I got into Berne, I noticed a tall tower along the highway. It resembled a forest ranger's tower, and since there were no forests around, I stopped to inquire about it. The tower was so tall and I was trying to see who was in the observation room when I realized that I wasn't watching where I was going for I had just run into the base of the tower. Someone came running down the steps shouting, "Help!!! There has been an earthquake!" To my surprise, it was LEE FENNIG. I explained what had happened and apologized for running into his tower. Then I asked him what was its purpose. He told me that after his previous experience with tornadoes he felt that Berne should have someone to warn them of the impending disaster. I left with the confident feeling that Berne would never again be taken by surprise.

The car wasn't badly damaged, but I felt I should get it checked before driving far. So I stopped at the first garage I saw. I don't think anyone could help but see it because it covered an entire block and was five stories high. As soon as I drove the car in, a grease jockey came running up calling out, "Hi, Wayne". After a second look, I saw that it was really MARGARET (CHOWNING) HUMMEL. She told me, "I became so interested in cars that I now come in occasionally just to help out. You knew that Herb owns this garage, didn't you?" She checked the car then she assured me that it could make the trip. I started to pay her but she refused, saying, "It was worth it to see you again, Wayne". I thanked her, then I started out again for home.

En route home I was taken back by the scene that presented itself directly before me, for a ship was knocking out the bridge over the Wabash. When the captain rushed out onto the deck, I was surprised to see that it was RANDY LOY. He shouted down "Sorry, Wayne" and returned to the bridge. Although this made me detour several miles, it was good to see Randy doing so well.

I decided that I should practice my surfing in California before trying the big surfs of Australia during my world tour.

While in California, I saw a woman that was driving down the sidewalk in her Volkswagen. I stopped her to find out where I could get a good haircut, and I met none other than our own LINDA REITZ who was on her way to Sunset Strip to lead a protest march against work. She told me of "Pinky's Parlor", which was just around the corner. As I stepped in, I saw LEAANN PINGRY applying an electric shock to Phyllis Diller's hair. While sitting in the chair, I heard a familiar voice on the radio. LeaAnn told me that the song was an excerpt from KEITH HUEY's best selling album, "Songs I Learned from Boys' State".

After a hard day of surfing, I decided I needed a change of pace, so I stopped in at a swinging nite club called "Hoffman's Hideaway". While inside, I saw ERNIE MILLER, who was working as the bartender. Before I got the opportunity to talk with him, I saw a familiar face. It was "Glassford of the Nile", who formerly was just plain SHARON GLASSFORD. I sat down at one of the tables to get a better look at the performer, and I heard a voice over my shoulder say, "Isn't she Great?" When I turned around, I saw the proprietor, DANNY HOFFMAN, another Bryantgrad.

A few days later, after mastering surfing, I began heading East. My first stop was in Washington D.C. While in Washington, I stopped in at the Internal Revenue Bureau, at their request. I was led down a long corridor and into a room with a red carpet. Someone gave a sinister chuckle and said, "It's awfully nice to see you here, Wayne". I was greatly relieved to see ROGER RITTENHOUSE step out of the shadows. He consoled me with the explanation that his reason for calling me was nothing more than wanting to visit. I asked him how he liked being the chief tax collector. He told me that this job of collecting the taxes wasn't half as hard as the one he had tackled in high school, trying to get the Seniors to pay their dues.

While in the office, Roger reminded me that a new cabinet office had been formed. It was given the name, Department of Human Relations. Roger told me that a graduate of '67, FRED TWIGG, had just been appointed as the Secretary of the Department.

While I was in the East, I decided to stop in at Annapolis and find out who Randy's navigation instructor was. While wandering about the campus, I happened to see one of the boys' Phys. Ed. classes with their instructor, THERESA WELSCH, who was putting them through their paces. I was just about to go over and talk with her, when I saw smoke billowing out one of the windows. I noticed that no one was getting too excited, so I asked what was going on. They explained that it was just one of their new Home Economic teacher's cooking classes. I was amazed to find out that this teacher was PATTY SCHMIT.

I stayed in Maryland that night, and the next day drove on to New York. Before I left New York, I wanted to buy a gift for one of my old friends. I had heard about a sale of cigars at Macy's, so I went there and on the fifth floor I found JANELLE STAUFFER behind a big display of "Dutch Master" cigars. I asked Janelle if they were very good. She assured me that they were the best on the market. "I know because I have tried almost every other brand", she said.

Just around the corner was a book store so I went in and browsed around for a book to read on the plane. There was a separate table of the best selling book, "How I Overcame My Teen-Age Love Problems". I picked it up and DAVE BERGMAN written in big gold letters caught my eye. I bought it because I knew that the author had had plenty of experiences to write about.

The next time I heard about a Bryant graduate, I was in England. I was walking down Carnaby street in my new "Mod" outfit, when I heard a newspaper boy calling, "Extra, Extra, Read All About It. America's first lady in space".

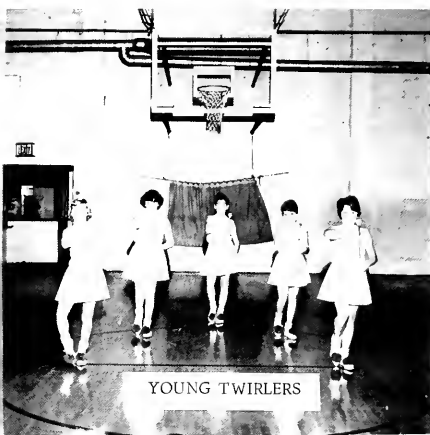

This interested me so I bought a paper. The headline that caught my eye read, "PATTY HAYDEN and JUNE ILIFF - the only woman team at a men-ed space station". I was very happy to see that Patty and June were working in an environment they enjoyed.

While traveling through the Far East, my plane was grounded in North Vietnam. I was escorted to the United States Embassy where I met our Ambassador, KAREN GOINS. She told me that she had revised her plans because she hadn't been able to master Chinese or Russian. She also told me of another one of her classmates, MARK HOUSER. He was stationed in South Vietnam and had just won a medal for being the most physically fit of all the men in the Chaplin Corps. She said that he attributed his good conditioning to his nightly exercise of chasing WACS.

While sitting in Karen's office, I realized that I had seen all of the '67 class students except JOHN LAUX, PATTY HERMAN, and ANN BROCKWAY. I also decided that my trip would not be complete without mountain climbing in the Himalayas. So I left Vietnam and set off for Tibet.

I wanted a real challenge, so I asked the guide to choose a formerly unconquered peak. However, when we reached the top, we found a house with John and Patty living there. Their only servant was a Governess, Ann Brockway.

Well, Mrs. Scholar, it seems as if the class of 1967 has done all right for itself. It isn't surprising since they decided "Not merely to exist, but to accomplish".

Mark Houser and Karen Goins

Class Poem

Now the time has come,
For us to say adieu,
But please, before we go,
May we present us to you.

First is Janelle, who loves to have fun,
And her parties never get out of hand,
But still there's one thing you should know,
You have to bring your own rubber band.

Next in line and headed for fame,
A guy who is really sweet,
Roger Rittenhouse is his name.
He's a guy who's hard to beat.

And next is June Iliff
Who couldn't stay away forever,
Has come back to Bryant
Just as ornery as ever.

If he's in a big red Mercury
And he's acting like a clown,
Then everyone knows
Keith Huey's in town.

From way down South
Where the bananas grow
Came our Karen Goins
Whom we all now know.

Especially Mark Houser
Who can fly like an eagle
On his way out to Karen's
It's really illegal.

Who's the wise-cracker in our class
No doubt you all can guess
In a group she causes a riot
Yes, Linda Reitz is never quiet.

Which brings us to Pat Hayden
Mostly the quiet, shy type
But her friendly smile treats us all
And you'll never hear from her a gripe.

Another girl who's in our class
Who's real quick and snappy
Is our Sharon Glassford
Who could make any boy happy.

For a guy who lives in the country
Danny Hoffman is Mr. Defiant
I wonder why we see him a lot
In the north end of Bryant.

Marion Dailey and his Ford
Is a combination that we all know
Wow, he sure can make those tires spin
As long as there's lots of snow.

And next comes Ernie Miller
Into who's future we'll peek
Yep, there's our Ernie
Trying success to seek.

We haven't forgotten Cheryl Gettinger
Who wants to become a nurse
Maybe someday she'll move to Africa
And learn a Witch Doctor's curse.

George Boice is our mechanic
Knows all about stroked and bored
Maybe someday he'll build a great car
But for now it's a flat head Ford.

Who's always talking to some boy
A blonde hair blue eyed lass
No doubt someday she'll make her catch
It's Patti Schmit who's in our class.

Now here's a guy tall and slim
And in Ohio you'll usually find him
For all the girls he opens the door
As you can see, Lee Fennig's no bore.

A great statesman once said, "Go West young man".
That was his wish and not an order
But still Fred Twigg has never made it
Much more than a mile and a quarter.

Who's always having open house
And a lot of visitors they say
No doubt it must be LeaAnn Pingry
Who takes what you say the wrong way.

Another new arrival this year
Has brought us plenty of cheer
Bryant's gain is Madison's loss
I bet Marg shows Herb who's boss.

John Laux and Patty Herman
A couple who's always together
I guess it's like the saying goes
They're "two birds of a feather".

Who's the young girl
That helps Mrs. Scholar
It's none other than Ann Brockway
That Bookkeeping scholar.

Last Will And Testament

- I, Roger Rittenhouse, will my position as Student Chorus Director to anyone who has enough nerve to try keeping fifty girls together.
- I, Janelle Stauffer, will all my curls to Cheri Fox who could use a few more.
- I, Dave Bergman, will my ability to never miss a day of school in twelve years to my brother DeWayne, who already likes to skip kindergarten.
- I, LeaAnn Pingry, will the two nuts, as my Mom and Dad have named them, to come down after ball practice to Jeanne Glassford. Good luck Carl and Marie!
- I, Fred Twigg, will nothing to nobody because I need everything myself.
- I, Theresa Welsch, will my middle name, Rose, to anyone who has the patience to take all the teasing that goes with it!
- I, George Boice, will my ability to get along with Shirley McCoy to Tom Huffman.
- I, Patty Hayden, will my ability to misplace things to Jim Schoenlein who is also absent-minded.
- I, Randy Loy, will my ability to pester the teacher in classes to Eddie Davidson.
- I, Ernie Miller, will my ability to get along with the girls to Mike Schmit.
- I, Lee Fennig, will my ability to be calm and collected to anyone that has a bad case of the jitters.
- I, Patty Herman, will my shyness to Jane Wendel.
- I, Margaret (Chowning) Hummel, will my ability to pass notes in study hall without getting caught to Steve Reitz.
- I, Keith Huey, will my ability to wear out a pair of basketball shoes in practices to Jim Schoenlein, who hasn't succeeded to do so with all the practices and games combined.
- I, Cheryl Gettinger, will my ability to drive around the block and have an accident to Jonny Fifer.
- I, Patti Schmit, will my femininity to Ruth Miller.
- I, Sharon Glassford, will my ability to put everything off until the last minute to my sister Patty, who already does a pretty good job of it herself.
- I, Mark Houser, being of sound mind (?), will my ability to stick my size 12 foot into my mouth to Janet Teeple.
- I, June Iliff, will not will Will for I want Will for myself. So if you know Will if you will tell Will I am ready if he is "Willin".

- I, Danny Hoffman, will the lack of cooperation I have received as president of the Senior class to the presidents of the underclassmen, just to keep their jobs interesting.
- I, Nona Fox, will my ability to get called down for talking in class to Jim Schoenlein.
- I, Marion Dailey, will my ability to go out with a girl I scarcely know and have fun to Tom Huffman.
- I, Ann Brockway, will my voice to Jeanne Glassford.
- I, John Laux, will my ability to never get a licking to Jack Whitacre, who has a good start right now.
- I, Karen Goins, will my task of trying to keep Mr. Wallace's desk clean to anyone who doesn't mind working without accomplishing anything.
- I, Lynda Reitz, will my ability to keep Diana Koon and Sherry Frakes out of trouble to anyone who wants a full time job!

Class Poem

Next comes a girl who should go far
It's Nona Fox whom we all know
Dashing from room to room
Always laughing and on the go.

Randy is what we call him
But Randy Loy is his name
A real good sport in everything
We hope he'll always stay the same.

This person is "one in a million"
And a good name she's got
Theresa Rose Welsch is the name
The question is, a million what?

We, the editors of this annual,
Would like to thank one person
Writing this poem is no easy job
We'll bet Dave did a lot of cursin'.

Maybe this isn't so funny
But it's all so true
It really means a lot to us
I hope you enjoyed it too.
